Cheques should be made payable to the Anglican Savings and Development Fund.

The ASDF is not prudentially supervised by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA). Therefore, an investor in the ASDF will not receive the benefit of the financial claims scheme or the depositor protection provisions in the Banking Act 1959. Investments in the ASDF are intended to be a means for investors to support the charitable purposes of the Fund. Neither the Trustees of Church Property, nor the ASDF nor its products, nor its promotional material and offer documents have been examined or approved by the Australian Securities and Investment Commission (ASIC). By law ASIC requires that all Religious and Charitable Development Funds, such as the ASDF, advise that investors may be unable to get some or all of their money back when the investor expects or at all, and the investment is not comparable to investments with banks, finance companies or fund managers.
